Name:

Julio Bustilos

Age:

Nine

Julio came to live at Casa de la Esperanza on September 17, 2008. He is of Tarahumara descent, and his parents work picking up apples in an orchard in Cuauhtemoc. Julio had never attended school before he arrived to Casa de la Esperanza. At home, he used to take care of his two younger siblings while his parents were working. His parents love Julio very much and brought him to Casa so that he can receive an education and have a better future. They visit him every week. Julio is a respectful and well-mannered boy with a great desire to study. He is a blessing to everyone at Casa.
