Name:

Age:

Five

Oscar is a five year old boy of Tarahumara decent, the indigenous native Indian of Chihuahua. Oscar is a precious and shy little boy with a sweet personality. Oscar was rescued in mid-summer from the banks of a river after a heavy rain flooded the wash that destroyed the village where he and his family lived. Many villagers were killed by the flood including Oscar's parents and brother. Oscar was miraculously spared by the storm and was found sitting on the banks of the river where the storm waters left him wet and cold but alive. Oscar, having been orphaned by this tragic incident is available for adoption. Oscar's favorite color is black and he love to eat salad which I find rather curious for a little boy. Oscar would like to be a policeman when he grows up and he loves to play cowboy. His favorite thing about Casa is the soccer field.
